Patty has performed in numerous productions at both the Orange Park Community Theatre and the Northeast Florida Conservatory. She has also directed with the Fine Arts Conservatory and Act II. In 2023, Theatre Troupe 1776 was formed from the cast of Unmasked, with Patty serving as their director. She is a former board member of the Orange Park Community Theatre and a current board member of the Mandarin Community Club. She is also a member of the Mandarin museum. Additionally, Patty is a registered nurse and a published author.

It has been an incredible opportunity to direct this beautiful new show! Seeing the cast bringing these characters to life from the pages of this script, was amazing. The cast learned about the Regency period, social etiquette, using a British accent, and much more to bring this show to the stage. Some of them added a spin to their characters that I didn't envision, but truly loved. This is an outstanding cast! I love you all so much!

Thank you to my daughter, Louise, for gifting us this show. Her knowledge of history and of the historical dances really made this show magnificent. Thank you to Andy Thompson, my stage manager and beyond, for all of his hard work to make this production come to life. Hats off to my Production team who planned and worked behind the scenes.

Lastly, thank you to the audiences who come to see our shows and support us. Without you, none of this would be possible.
